

Daria Ciriaci presently serves as Vice President for European Affairs at CDP and, since November 2019, as Vice President of the European Long-Term Investor Association (ELTIA).

With a multicultural and multilingual background, she is an experienced industrial economist with profound knowledge of European affairs and a strong political acumen. Before joining CDP, she had a long and successful career at the European Commission, as economic counsellor at the EC Representation to Italy and as an economist within the DG for Economic and Financial Affairs, and several experiences as senior consultant and professor. She holds a Ph.D in Economics.